Special Provision for Candidates Awaiting HSSC Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Result

In compliance with the directions of Pakistan Medical Commission (PMC), those candidates who are awaiting their delayed HSSC Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination result are also allowed to apply for admissions this year because of COVID-19 pandemic provided they fulfil all other eligibility requirements as laid down in the Prospectus for the Session 2021-2022 (available at the Official Website of the University of Health Sciences (UHS) Lahore: www.uhs.edu.pk). The procedure and conditions shall be as follows:

- i. These 'delayed result candidates' shall apply online through the Application Portal Link (<http://www.bop.com.pk/UHS-2021/Login.aspx>) with other candidates as per notified procedure and schedule (i.e. from Friday, 12th November to Monday, 22nd November, 2021). No application shall be accepted after due date (i.e. Monday, 22nd November, 2021).
- ii. A check mark with option of "Yes/No" has been provided in the application form for such candidates. When they check "Yes", they will not be able to enter their HSSC/equivalent exam marks. Still they can submit their application though a statement of 'no aggregate percentage' will appear on the top of their application. Their application shall remain incomplete till the submission of HSSC/equivalent result.
- iii. In order to prepare Provisional Merit Lists and Provisional Selection Lists, it will be assumed that the 'delayed result candidates' have 100 per cent marks in HSSC/equivalent exam. They will be placed with other candidates in the colleges on the basis of their 'provisional aggregate percentage' and 'order of preference'. It shall, however, in no way entitle those candidates with delayed results to such a percentage and their admission in any medical or dental college shall only be determined on the basis of their marks secured in the HSSC Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination. These 'delayed result candidates' shall NOT deposit fee in any medical or dental college where they shall initially be placed on PROVISIONAL BASIS ONLY.
- iv. The 'delayed result candidates' provisionally admitted in any medical or dental college, shall be required to submit their HSSC (Pre-Medical) Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination results online as per the procedure prescribed by the University by Sunday, 6th February, 2022. Failure to submit HSSC (Pre-Medical) Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination marks and supporting documents within due date i.e. by Sunday, 6th February, 2022, shall result in the cancellation of provisional admission of such candidates.
- v. After submission of HSSC (Pre-Medical) Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination results, actual aggregate percentage of these candidates will be calculated and they will either be re-adjusted in respective colleges or placed in the waiting list strictly as per their merit. Please note that down-gradation of any 'delayed result candidate' if happens on the basis of final result, shall not be considered in contravention to the provisions of the Prospectus because his/her initial merit was not based on his/her actual marks obtained in HSSC (Pre-Medical) Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination rather it was 'absolutely provisional'.

- vi. Please also note that the Repeaters who have appeared in HSSC (Pre-Medical) Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination in a bid to improve their marks and are awaiting their result, they must NOT enter their available HSSC/equivalent exam marks on their online application. They should also follow the aforementioned procedure. When their delayed HSSC (Pre-Medical) Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination result is declared, they can submit the marks of that examination in which they secured higher marks. It must, however, be remembered that the deadline for such submission of delayed result is Sunday, 6th February, 2022.
- vii. The Repeaters are informed that if they fail to follow the procedure as given in Para (vi) above and enter their available HSSC/Equivalent marks, intentionally or unintentionally, at the time of submission of their online application then, at the later stage, their improved marks in HSSC (Pre-Medical) Special Examination or A-Level (November 2021 Series) Examination shall NOT be accepted and no request in this regard shall be entertained.

For details, please carefully go through the Prospectus for the Session 2021-2022 (available at UHS website: www.uhs.edu.pk) before applying for admission.
